POLLING PLACE KEY IS MISSING; NEW ONE FOUND

Clerks in the office of the secretary of the territory were on duty this morning for some two hours, from 7 to 9 o'clock, to see that everything was in working order at the different voting booths.

Only two calls came in, according to Eben Cushingham, head clerk. One of these was from the Kalihi-waena school where the inspectors were unable to find a key and sent in an excited "S. O. S." to the capitol building. Cushingham had an automobile at his disposal for the morning and soon had the slight trouble adjusted.

The other call was from the Puna-hou booth where the ballot box lid worked hard, giving the inspectors the impression that it was locked or fastened down in some other way. Cushingham made a hurry-up run to the scene, but the inspectors had discovered their mistake by the time he arrived.

Reduced prices on goods will be the feature of the second night of the Chinese church fair at Fort and Beretania streets. A Chinese dinner will be served tonight.

BIG SUPPLIES OF FOOD FOR LOCAL POSTS

NEWS CART QUESTION LEFT TO CITY ATTORNEY FOR DECISION BY BOARD

The city attorney has been asked to decide for the board of supervisors when and where news carts may operate on the streets of Honolulu. The question was raised by the receipt of letters received from A. B. Arleigh & Co. and Wall, Nichols Co., who claim that their business has been injured by the Home News Agency, which runs a stand, and asked that they may be permitted to place news carts also on the streets.

The police committee of the board met Friday afternoon and after discussing the subject left it for the attorney to settle.

NEW HAWAIIAN SONGS WRITTEN BY SALLIE HUME DOUGLAS OUT

Sallie Hume Douglas has come to the front as a composer of Hawaiian ballads that carry the real atmosphere of Hawaii. Her first ballad, "The Isles of Tranquil Delight," is being sung and hummed and played throughout the mainland. This is now followed by two Hawaiian songs, "My Love Dear" and "Her Pink Mumi." The latter is quickly known form its name to be strictly Hawaiian. The words and music fit the part and bring in Waikiki Beach and all the fetching accompaniments. These new pieces of Mrs. Douglas are having a good sale, both in Honolulu and on the mainland.

MAUI TEACHER MUST STAY FOR OTHER TRIALS

Herbert Wade Has to Remain to Give Testimony Against Other Defendants

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)
WAILUKU, Maui, Oct. 6.—Herbert Wade, principal of the Haiku school, who was called back to San Francisco as a witness in the celebrated "preparedness parade dynamiting case," is still being held in San Francisco to give further testimony regarding his knowledge of the outrage, according to the school authorities.

It was through Wade's testimony that one of the defendants has been convicted and he is being retained in San Francisco to testify against a second one who has been apprehended.

Wade was in a dentist's office just before the dynamiting, when a man came in with a satchel and asked permission to go to the roof of the building on the pretext that he wanted to take a picture. Shortly afterward another man and a woman came through and went to the roof. The first man is the one who has been convicted and it is the second caller at the dentist's office who is now to be tried.

Wade had booked return passage to the islands on the Manoa, but was not allowed to depart by the San Francisco officials.

BOSTON WINS, ALSO HEINIE'S

In a game replete with sensational plays the Boston Red Sox won the first of the world's series from the Brooklyn Dodgers and had a crowd of 45,000 people on the anxious seat up to the last moments of play. But the largest crowd of merry-makers in Honolulu will be out at Heinie's Tavern, "on the Beach at Waikiki," this evening.

Join the crowd, come out to Heinie's tonight and bring your friends and join the fans in a delicious dinner de luxe and have the time of your lives.

Our own "Sonny" Cunha will "tickle the ivories" to the best tunes you ever danced to and the cabaret features will prove delightful to everybody. (Signed) "Yours for a good time"—Heinie's.—Adv.

CIVIC FEDERATION HAS HARD TIME GIVING AWAY LILIUOKALANI GARDENS

For the third time the deed to Liliuokalani Garden has been redrafted and is again ready for the signatures of the interested parties.

The Civic Federation, owners of the property, wish to give the garden to the city. Its first deed was rejected because it stated the city must spend $5400 the first year on upkeep. This time limit in the clause was struck out and the board of supervisors accepted it. Later the Civic Federation added several restricting clauses, but the board refused to allow them and the deed is again in its second form.

GUARD TROOPS SPEND TOMORROW ON RANGE

Troops of the 2nd Battalion, 1st Infantry, National Guard, will spend the day tomorrow on Punchbowl rifle range. The battalion will leave the armory about 8 o'clock in the morning, returning about 4:30 in the afternoon. Maj. Gustave Rose is in charge of the battalion, which includes Companies E, F, G and H. This is the first encampment at the crater since two weeks ago, the camp having undergone considerable overworking in this time.

FIND OF HUMAN LEGS ON BEACH STILL MYSTERY

Finding of Khaki Trousers on Beach Only Clue; Doctor Says Perhaps Amputated

One pair of torn khaki trousers, ripped almost to shreds, which were found on the Koiko Head beach this morning by Chief McDuffie of the detective department, inclines him to the belief that the two dismembered legs of humas, bodies which have been found there this week were the remains of bodies destroyed by sharks.

McDuffie left early this morning with Sert. Kellett and Detectives Silva, Hao and Kishi by auto to make a thorough investigation of the mystery that became doubly serious by the discovery of the second leg Thursday. All morning the chief's crew scoured the beach to be rewarded only by the find of the trousers and part of a hat band.

The trousers appear to be nearly new, of the size that might have been worn by a man whose build was in proportion to the discovered leg. The trousers were buttoned as if they had been pulled bodily from the wearer, one trouser leg had been torn away entirely and the remaining material was perforated with irregular holes which some who have examined them say may have been made by sharp teeth.

Will Carefully Examine
McDuffie brought the trousers to town with him and will inspect every inch of the material with a magnifying glass. A preliminary examination of the beach revealed a match box and spots that might be blood but so far no mark of identification, not even the maker's label, has been found on the trousers.

The piece of hat band and the trousers were found about 100 feet from where the man's leg was discovered. Japanese, Hawaiian and Chinese fishermen along the beach whom McDuffie questioned this morning knew nothing of the tragedy but thought that the trousers had probably been chewed by sharks.

Investigation is Fruitless
About one-half mile distant lives the closest resident to the spot of discovery, but at this place and others along the beach McDuffie got the same answer, "No one missing." The chief examined both limbs this morning and believes they might both have been dismembered by sharks. His theory is that the sea monsters devoured most of the bodies, the legs drifting over the reef.

A resident at the Marconi wireless station near the beach has agreed to inform McDuffie of any missing residents in that vicinity if such are discovered.

Doctor Says Perhaps Amputation
After seeing both limbs, Police Surgeon Ayer stated Friday they had probably been removed by amputation. McDuffie believes they could also have been severed from the body by the gnawing teeth of a shark.

Sheriff Rose and Deputy Asch both were at a loss this morning to explain the presence of the man's and woman's dismembered legs on the beach. Ayer said that there was no report of cemeteries being robbed and stated that the limbs did not come from a body which had been buried.

PERSONALITIES

W. GEORGE ASHLEY, JR., division deputy collector for the internal revenue office, left Thursday for Kailua, where he is to conduct an inspection tour of two or three weeks' duration.

ARTHUR G. MURAKAMI, for the last two years a clerk in the offices of the law firm of Lightfoot & Lightfoot, left for Maui Friday to take a position in the offices of the Kahului railroad.

WALTER WALL, territorial surveyor, who has been shooting big game in Alaska, is expected to return to Honolulu on the transport Thomas, which sailed Thursday from San Francisco.

S. E. LUCAS is back in Honolulu from Maui, where he has been for several days on a business and pleasure trip. Maui citizens are enjoying prosperity in a calm and peaceful way, he says, with the exception of today's elections, which have caused considerable excitement.

MR. and MRS. GEORGE W. PATY returned Friday from a month's vacation passed in the Kona district of Hawaii at Kealahou. They stayed at the home of Mrs. Ruth Baker. Talks on temperance were made at the public schools in that section by Paty, who is assistant superintendent and secretary of the Anti-Saloon League of Hawaii, and who says the Kona district is ideal both in scenery and climate.

After driving a light automobile more than 12,000 miles, the manager of a Texas mine changed its wheels and converted it into a locomotive to haul mine cars.
